2022 PTA Winner Fairfield University Project Tour and Dinner

On November 8, 2022 CBC hosted a tour of the 2022 CBC Project Team of the Year Award Winner at Fairfield University's Charles F. Dolan School of Business. The 85,000-SF, state-of-the-art academic facility was designed to engage students in analytical thinking while providing an interactive learning environment with case-based classrooms. The winning project team including Gilbane, the S/L/A/M Collaborative, and Fairfield University spoke on the project's unique challenges along with successfully delivering the project on time for the Fall school opening. Moderated by Andrew White (Project Manager of Tighe and Bond) they discussed how they worked cohesively and collaboratively from pre-design through closeout on this award-winning project.

Curt A. Krushinsky, Katie Hurley, Richard Polvino, and Andrew White

Panelist:

Curt A. Krushinsky, Architect, Director of Campus Planning & Design
Katie Hurley, Project Executive, Gilbane Building Company
Richard Polvino, Principal, Architect, The S/L/A/M Collaborative

About CBC's Project Team Awards

The Connecticut Building Congress recognizes outstanding building projects that exemplify project team excellence and represent the best practices in teamwork by project owners, architects, engineers, constructors and trades. Each year, CBC recognizes projects whose team members have met or surpassed goals and achieved higher project quality through this close collaboration. The money raised from that event goes towards scholarships to graduating Connecticut high school students entering college-level programs in architecture, construction-related engineering, construction management, surveying, planning or other courses of study leading to associate, baccalaureate, or masters degrees in the construction field. In the recent past, scholarships have ranged from $2,500 to $4,000 per year, renewable up to 5 years.
